

LEOSPHERE AT EGU 2008

We are pleased to announce that Leosphere will attend the EGU 2008 exhibition between the 13th of April and 18th of April in Vienna, Austria.

During this event, we will present you both Leosphere systems:

- 3D Cloud & Aerosol Lidar
- Windcube Lidar.

We hope you can attend the EGU this year, Wilfried, our new sales and marketing engineer, will be very pleased to meet you on our booth n°9.

Leosphere team announces you that our scientists, Laurent Sauvage and Simone Lolli, will present two posters during EGU 2008 (Monday, 14 April 2008- Poster Area: Halls X/Y):

- Assessment of the EZ LIDAR and Micro Pulse Lidar (MPL) performances at ARM Southern Great Plains (SGP) Central Facility for the measurement of clouds and aerosols.
- A new method for 2D Air Quality monitoring using lidars inside an underground railways station.

Laurent Sauvage will make an oral presentation on: “Windcube lidar compact wind profiler: Overview on 1 year comparison campaigns with calibrated sensors at different locations”.
